SECTION 4: READING*VI. Read the text and answer the questions.*(5 points)

Italy is a fascinating country, a wonderful of both man-made and natural beauty. No matter where you go in this small but varied country, you can find something to interest and delight you. The big cities such as Milan, Rome and Naples are filled with ancient monuments, beautiful palaces and some of the best examples of modern architecture in the world, while smaller cities such as Pisa are worth visiting for famous sights like the Leaning Tower, as much as their churches, parks and surrounding countryside. Because Italy is a long and narrow country, the climate from north to south varies a lot. While in the north it is cold with mountains and lakes, in the south it is a paradise with lots of sunshine, warm seas and sandy beaches. And, of course, everywhere you go, there is the delicious food, which is just as good a reason for visiting Italy as seeing the sights.
